

Choosing day old chicks that grow more faster & without death

Qualities to observe

Select active and alert chicks, these should not be crumbling together. Also examine the chick's head and eyes well, usually normal chicks have open rounded bright eyes. Furthermore, ensure that the chick nostrils have no discharge and avoid selecting chicks with scissors beaks. Additionally, check for star gazing abnormal conditions since this affects the chick's health. In conclusion, check the chick's legs and feet as these should be straight.
