Cure Fowl Pox in Chickens by Using This Organic Products

Topical treatment

Extract and apply lemon juice onto wounds and blisters this prevents entry o other disease causing organisms as well as facilitating the wounds to heal faster. Alternatively, apply palm oil and honey on blisters and wounds this helps them to dry and heal faster. Lastly, you can apply toothpaste on wounds and blisters for them to dry and heal faster.

Systemic treatment

Chop and grind garlic thereafter mix it in feeds and water to prevent infections. Alternatively, add either tumeric powder or oils extracted from oregano mint or thyme into feeds and water. On the other hand add either tumeric powder or oils extracted from oregano, lavender, mint and thyme into feeds and water to boost immunity of birds.