Enlarged crop organic treatment in chicken

Crop enlargement Causes

Ingestion of foreign objects which block the crop, additionally, severe infestation of worms as well as excessive usage of chicken antibiotics which results into death of good bacteria. Furthermore, feeding of chicken on contaminated water and feeds. Lastly, stress as well as poor diet also result into enlargement of the chicken crop.

Organic treatment

First, provide birds with apple cider vinegar this helps to kill the candida virus. Also give affected birds olive oil drops and massage the blocked crop. Additionally, also give affected chickens 1-2 MLS of tomato juice 2 or 3 times a day to restore balance of good bacteria as well as facilitate digestion. Furthermore, in order to detoxify the crop dissolve 1 teaspoon of Epsom salt in 1 cup of water and give to chicken 2-3 times a day for 3 days.
