

Growing Wheat For The First Time

Crop management

Cover bed with crop cover to prevent birds from picking seeds and water garden 3 times during drought. Harvest wheat by cutting plants using a sickle and bind them into bundles and lay harvest down on ground cover fabric for full ripening and drying.

Similarly, after few weeks, remove grain from stalls and winnow seeds in wind. For next year, mix seed harvested with the remaining seeds in the first season.