

Kuroiler chicken farming part 2

Kuroilers are profitable birds of the Indian origin, with the ability to search for their own feeds, resistant to climate changes and their eggs have a longer shelf life.

Additionally, kuroiler eggs and meat are very healthy to human beings especially to the young children as it improves their performances in class. It is recommended to give additional nutritious feeds to kuroiler birds so as to avoid disease outbreak

Kuroiler benefits

First, kuroiler eggs are healthy to human beings since they are nutritious, with proteins vitamins, minerals for formation of strong bones and teeth.

Also kuroilers eggs are highly demanded by consumers since they have yellow yolks hence resulting into increased income generation.

Furthermore, kuroiler meat is highly demanded due to its good taste and source of protein.

They generate farm incomes and improve nutrition hence facilitating community rural development.

Lastly kuroiler meat is important to human as it helps in resistance of diseases and infections.